Index

The Volta Review Volume 85, 1983

Author Index

Albertini, John A., Smith, Jean McKernan, & Metz, Dale E.: Small group versus individual speech therapy with hearing-impaired young adults—Feb./Mar., pp. 83–89

Arnold, Paul: Does pure oralism cause atrophy of the hearing-impaired child's brain? (Forum)—May, pp. 229–234

Bernstein, Anita, & Svarc, Joyce: Toys and games as rewards in listening and speech lessons (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 36–40

Brackett, Diane: Group communication strategies for the hearing impaired—Sept., pp. 116–128

Churches, R., & Guelke, R. W.: The use of earmuffs to avoid feedback in hearing aids—Apr., pp. 167–169

Davey, Beth, & LaSasso, Carol: An examination of hearing-impaired readers' test-taking abilities on reinspection tasks—Oct./Nov., pp. 279–284

de Villiers, Peter A.: Semantic and pragmatic factors in the acquisition of syntax—Sept., pp. 10–28

Fitzgerald, Carol, Sutton, Kathy, Rollins, Joan C., & Long, Nancy: The auditory-verbal approach: Ellison, a case study (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 27–30, 35

Foster, Sue: Topic and the development of discourse structure—Sept., pp. 44–54

Gilmore, Perry: Ethnographic approaches to the study of child language: Two illustrative studies—Sept., pp. 29–43

Goodhart, Wendy, Montandon, Elizabeth, & Wilbur, Ronnie: Comprehension of nine syntactic structures by hearing-impaired students—Dec., pp. 328–345

Grant, June: Teacher preparation: Issues and trends—Feb./Mar., pp. 90–96, 101–104

Greco, Rosalie, Mathias, Marcella, Peterka, Barbara, Sheldon, Anne, Strazewski, Lorraine, & Theoharis, Arhontisa: Mainstreaming hearing-impaired children: Understanding is the answer (Programs in action)—Dec., pp. 360–363

Guelke, R. W., & Churches, R.: The use of earmuffs to avoid feedback in hearing aids—Apr., pp. 167–169

Hammermeister, Frieda K., & Israelite, Neita Kay: Reading instruction for the hearing impaired: An integrated language arts approach—Apr., pp. 136–148

Hansen, Susan Aaberg, & Sheehy, Patti: The use of vibrotactile aids with preschool hearing-impaired children: Case studies (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 14–26

Hanson, Ronald H.: Correcting the enuresis of a hearing-impaired, developmentally disabled adolescent using an auditory enuresis alarm—Dec., pp. 353–359

Hasenstab, M. Suzanne: Child language studies: Impact on habilitation of hearing-impaired infants and preschool children—Sept., pp. 88–100

Israelite, Neita Kay, & Hammermeister, Frieda K.: Reading instruction for the hearing impaired: An integrated language arts approach—Apr., pp. 136–148

Kelly, Ronald R., Witters, Lee A., & Witters-Churchill, Laurie J.: Hearing-impaired students' perception of liquid horizontality: An examination of the effects of gender, development, and training—May, pp. 211–225

Index

The Volta Review Volume 85, 1983

Author Index

Albertini, John A., Smith, Jean McKernan, & Metz, Dale E.: Small group versus individual speech therapy with hearing-impaired young adults—Feb./Mar., pp. 83–89

Arnold, Paul: Does pure oralism cause atrophy of the hearing-impaired child's brain? (Forum)—May, pp. 229–234

Bernstein, Anita, & Svarc, Joyce: Toys and games as rewards in listening and speech lessons (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 36–40

Brackett, Diane: Group communication strategies for the hearing impaired—Sept., pp. 116–128

Churches, R., & Guelke, R. W.: The use of earmuffs to avoid feedback in hearing aids—Apr., pp. 167–169

Davey, Beth, & LaSasso, Carol: An examination of hearing-impaired readers' test-taking abilities on reinspection tasks—Oct./Nov., pp. 279–284

de Villiers, Peter A.: Semantic and pragmatic factors in the acquisition of syntax—Sept., pp. 10–28

Fitzgerald, Carol, Sutton, Kathy, Rollins, Joan C., & Long, Nancy: The auditory-verbal approach: Ellison, a case study (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 27–30, 35

Foster, Sue: Topic and the development of discourse structure—Sept., pp. 44–54

Gilmore, Perry: Ethnographic approaches to the study of child language: Two illustrative studies—Sept., pp. 29–43

Goodhart, Wendy, Montandon, Elizabeth, & Wilbur, Ronnie: Comprehension of nine syntactic structures by hearing-impaired students—Dec., pp. 328–345

Grant, June: Teacher preparation: Issues and trends—Feb./Mar., pp. 90–96, 101–104

Greco, Rosalie, Mathias, Marcella, Peterka, Barbara, Sheldon, Anne, Strazewski, Lorraine, & Theoharis, Arhontisa: Mainstreaming hearing-impaired children: Understanding is the answer (Programs in action)—Dec., pp. 360–363

Guelke, R. W., & Churches, R.: The use of earmuffs to avoid feedback in hearing aids—Apr., pp. 167–169

Hammermeister, Frieda K., & Israelite, Neita Kay: Reading instruction for the hearing impaired: An integrated language arts approach—Apr., pp. 136–148

Hansen, Susan Aaberg, & Sheehy, Patti: The use of vibrotactile aids with preschool hearing-impaired children: Case studies (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 14–26

Hanson, Ronald H.: Correcting the enuresis of a hearing-impaired, developmentally disabled adolescent using an auditory enuresis alarm—Dec., pp. 353–359

Hasenstab, M. Suzanne: Child language studies: Impact on habilitation of hearing-impaired infants and preschool children—Sept., pp. 88–100

Israelite, Neita Kay, & Hammermeister, Frieda K.: Reading instruction for the hearing impaired: An integrated language arts approach—Apr., pp. 136–148

Kelly, Ronald R., Witters, Lee A., & Witters-Churchill, Laurie J.: Hearing-impaired students' perception of liquid horizontality: An examination of the effects of gender, development, and training—May, pp. 211–225

Kennedy, Zita: Commitment to global education (Programs in action)—Oct./Nov., pp. 289–296
Kessler, Maureen E.: Parent diary: A technique for sampling the expressive language of hearing-impaired children—Feb./Mar., pp. 105–115
Kolzak, Jennifer: The impact of child language studies on mainstreaming decisions—Sept., pp. 129–137
LaSasso, Carol, & Davey, Beth: An examination of hearing-impaired readers' test-taking abilities on reinspection tasks—Oct./Nov., pp. 279–284
Long, Nancy, Fitzgerald, Carol, Sutton, Kathy, & Rollins, Joan C.: The auditory-verbal approach: Ellison, a case study (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 27–30, 35
Mathias, Marcella, Peterka, Barbara, Sheldon, Anne, Strazewski, Lorraine, Theoharis, Arhontisa, & Greco, Rosalie: Mainstreaming hearing-impaired children: Understanding is the answer (Programs in action)—Dec., pp. 360–363
McGinnis, Mary: Social language: Toward fluency and flexibility—Sept., pp. 101–115
Metz, Dale E., Albertini, John A., & Smith, Jean McKernan: Small group versus individual speech therapy with hearing-impaired young adults—Feb./Mar., pp. 83–89
Michaels, Sarah: The role of adult assistance in children's acquisition of literate discourse strategies—Sept., pp. 72–86
Montandon, Elizabeth, Wilbur, Ronnie, & Goodhart, Wendy: Comprehension of nine syntactic structures by hearing-impaired students—Dec., pp. 328–345
Peterka, Barbara, Sheldon, Anne, Strazewski, Lorraine, Theoharis, Arhontisa, Greco, Rosalie, & Mathias, Marcella: Mainstreaming hearing-impaired children: Understanding is the answer (Programs in action)—Dec., pp. 360-363
Pottharst, Ed: Literature on tape and the hearing impaired: Listening while reading with Winnie-The-Pooh and Candide (Forum)—Oct./Nov., pp. 285–288
Powers, Ann Rutledge, & Wilgus, Sandra: Linguistic complexity in the written language of hearing-impaired children—May, pp. 201–210
Proctor, Adele: Early home intervention for hearing-impaired infants and their parents—Apr., pp. 150–158, 163–166
Roemer, Danielle: Children's verbal folklore—Sept., pp.. 55–71
Rollins, Joan C., Long, Nancy, Fitzgerald, Carol, & Sutton, Kathy: The auditory-verbal approach: Ellison, a case study (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 27–30, 35
Rostron, A. B., & Ward, R. D.: Computer-assisted learning for the hearing impaired: An interactive written language environment—Dec., pp. 346–352
Rudmin, Floyd: The why and how of hearing /s/—Oct./Nov., pp. 263–269
Sheehy, Patti, & Hansen, Susan Aaberg: The use of vibrotactile aids with preschool hearing-impaired children: Case studies (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 14–26
Sheldon, Anne, Strazewski, Lorraine, Theoharis, Arhontisa, Greco, Rosalie, Mathias, Marcella, & Peterka, Barbara: Mainstreaming hearing-impaired children: Understanding is the answer (Programs in action)—Dec., pp. 360–363
Smith, Jean McKernan, Metz, Dale E., & Albertini, John A.: Small group versus individual speech therapy with hearing-impaired young adults—Feb./Mar., pp. 83–89
Stoker, Richard G.: On computers and the hearing impaired (Forum)—Dec., p. 367
Stone, Patrick: Auditory learning in a school setting: Procedures and results—Jan., pp. 7–13
Strazewski, Loarraine, Theoharis, Arhontisa, Greco, Rosalie, Mathias, Marcella, Peterka, Barbara, & Sheldon, Anne: Mainstreaming hearing-impaired children: Understanding is the answer (Programs in action)—Dec., pp. 360–363
Stuckless, E. Ross, & Walter, Gerard G.: Students hearing impaired from the 1963–65 rubella epidemic begin to enter college—Oct./Nov., pp. 270–278
Sutton, Kathy, Rollins, Joan C., Long, Nancy, & Fitzgerald, Carol: The auditory-verbal approach: Ellison, a case study (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 27–30, 35
Svare, Joyce, & Bernstein, Anita: Toys and games as rewards in listening and speech lessons (Programs in action)—Jan., pp. 36–40

Theoharis, Athontisa, Greco, Rosalie, Mathias, Marcella, Peterka, Barbara, Sheldon, Anne, & Strazewski, Lorraine: Mainstreaming hearing-impaired children: Understanding is the answer—Dec., pp. 360–363
Ward, R. D., & Rostron, A. B.: Computer-assisted learning for the hearing impaired: An interactive written language environment—Dec., pp. 346–352
Wilbur, Ronnie, Goodhart, Wendy, & Montandon, Elizabeth: Comprehension of nine syntactic structures by hearing-impaired students—Dec., pp. 328–345
Wilgus, Sandra, & Powers, Ann Rutledge: Linguistic complexity in the written language of hearing-impaired children—May, pp. 201–210
Witters, Lee A., Witters-Churchill, Laurie J., & Kelly, Ronald R.: Hearing-impaired students' perception of liquid horizontality: An examination of the effects of gender, development, and training—May, pp. 211–225
Witters-Churchill, Laurie J., Kelly, Ronald R., & Witters, Lee A.: Hearing-impaired students' perception of liquid horizontality: An examination of the effects of gender, development, and training—May, pp. 211–225
Yarnall, Gary D.: Comparison of operant and conventional audiometric procedures with multihandicapped (deaf-blind) children—Feb./Mar., pp. 69–82

Subject Index

Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Deaf
Association mourns deaths of Feibelman, Weitbrecht—Oct./Nov., pp. 311–312
Bylaws: Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Deaf, Inc.—Jan., pp. 53–59
Gifts to the Association: Jan., p. 51; Feb./Mar., pp. 123–124; Apr., p. 186; May, p. 250, Oct./Nov., pp. 304–306; Dec., p. 374
Introducing Robert Cole, Etta Fisher, and Ken Levinson: Program cochairpeople for the Portland convention '84—Oct./Nov., p. 313
Meet Patrick Stone and Linda Werner, general convention chairpersons for the 1984 convention in Portland—May, p. 249
New A. G. Bell Board members chosen—Oct./Nov., p. 311

Audiology
Comparison of operant and conventional audiometric preocedures with multihandicapped (deaf-blind) children, Gary D. Yarnall—Feb./Mar., pp. 69–82
Literature on tape and the hearing impaired: Listening while reading with Winnie-The-Pooh and Candide (Forum), Ed Pottharst—Oct./Nov., pp. 285–288
The use of earmuffs to avoid feedback in hearing aids, R. W. Guelke & R. Churches—Apr., pp. 167–169
The why and how of hearing /s/, Floyd Rudmin—Oct./Nov., pp. 263–269

Book Reviews
Alternate methods of communication, Carlson—Jan., p. 43
Assessment of hearing-impaired people: A guide for selecting psychological, educational, and vocational tests, Zieziula (Ed.)—Apr., pp. 181–183
Aural rehabilitation: A management model, 2nd edition, Sanders—Jan., pp. 45–47
Behavioral traits of deaf children, Heimgartner—Apr., pp. 175–176
Central auditory and language disorders in children, Keith (Ed.)—May, pp. 242–243
Central auditory assessment: The SSW test, Arnst & Katz (Eds.)—Apr., pp. 179–180
Clinical examination of voice, Hirano—Apr., pp. 171–172
The conquest of deafness, Bender—Apr., pp. 170–171
Deafness and communication: Assessment and training, Sims, Walter, & Whitehead—Oct./Nov., pp. 298–299

Early language: Acquisition and intervention, Schiefelbusch & Bricker (Eds.)—Apr., pp. 178–179
Educating exceptional pupils, Blake—May, p. 244
Educating the deaf: Psychology, principles, and practices, 2nd edition, Moores—Apr., pp. 177–178
The education of deaf children: Issues, theory, and practice, Quigley & Kretschmer—May, pp. 240–241
Hard of hearing children in regular schools, Ross, Brackett, & Maxon—Jan., pp. 44–45
Hearing handicapped adults (Remediation of communication disorders series), Giolas—Oct./Nov., pp. 299–300
Hearing impairments in young children, Boothroyd—Oct./Nov., p. 302
An integrative approach to language disorders in children, Carrow-Woolfolk & Lynch—Jan., pp. 43–44
Is it catching?, Hall—Apr., p. 176
Language disorders in adolescents, Tibbits—May, pp. 238, 240.
Language disorders in preschool children, Cole—Apr., pp. 174–175
Language disorders in school-age children, Wood—Apr., p. 172
Legal rights of hearing-impaired people, The National Center for Law and the Deaf—May, p. 242
Life among the dead, Jack—Jan., p. 42
Lipreading, Walther—Jan., p. 45
Pädagogik der Gehörlosen und Schwerhörigen, Jussen & Kröhnert (Eds.)—May, pp. 236–238
Phonetics: Principals and practices, 2nd edition, Singh & Singh—May, pp. 244, 246
Psychology and communication in deaf children, Savage, Evans, & Savage—Apr., pp. 172, 174
Raising the handicapped child, Pearlman & Scott—Apr., pp. 176–177
Reading milestones, Quigley & King—Oct./Nov., p. 298
Reading, writing, and the exceptional child: A psycho-socio-linguistic approach, Hasenstab & Laughton—Apr., p. 181
Special devices for hard of hearing, deaf, and deaf-blind persons, Hurvitz & Carmen—Jan., pp. 47–48
Speech and language: Advances in basic research and practice, Volume VI, Lass (Ed.)—Jan., pp. 42–43
Teaching speech to hearing-impaired children, Stovall—May, p. 238
When your child is hearing impaired: A parents' guide, Massachusetts Parents' Association for the Deaf and Hard of Hearing—Oct./Nov., p. 301

Education and/or Teaching of the Hearing Impaired

Auditory learning in a school setting: Procedures and results, Patrick Stone—Jan., pp. 7–13
Commitment to global education (Programs in action), Zita Kennedy—Oct./Nov., pp. 289–296
Computer-assisted learning for the hearing impaired: An interactive written language environment, R. D. Ward & A. B. Rostron—Dec., pp. 348–354
Correcting the enuresis of a hearing-impaired, developmentally disabled adolescent using an auditory enuresis alarm, Ronald H. Hanson—Dec., pp. 355–362
Does pure oralism cause atrophy of the hearing-impaired child's brain? (Forum), Paul Arnold—May, pp. 229–234
An examination of hearing-impaired readers' test-taking abilities on reinspection tasks, Carol LaSasso & Beth Davey—Oct./Nov., pp. 279–284
Reading instruction for the hearing impaired: An integrated language arts approach, Frieda K. Hammermeister & Neita Kay Israelite—Apr., pp. 136–148

Students hearing impaired from the 1963–65 rubella epidemic begin to enter college, E. Ross Stuckless & Gerard G. Walter—Oct./Nov., pp. 270–278
Teacher preparation: Issues and trends, June Grant—Feb./Mar., pp. 90–96, 101–104
Toys and games as rewards in listening and speech lessons (Programs in action), Anita Bernstein & Joyce Svarc—Jan., pp. 36–40

Language

Child language studies: Impact on habilitation of hearing-impaired infants and preschool children, M. Suzanne Hasenstab—Sept., pp. 88–100
Children's verbal folklore, Danielle Roemer—Sept., pp. 55–71
Comprehension of nine syntactic structures by hearing-impaired students, Ronnie Wilbur, Wendy Goodhart, & Elizabeth Montandon—Dec., pp. 328–348
Ethnographic approaches to the study of child language: Two illustrative studies, Perry Gilmore—Sept., pp. 29–43
Group communication strategies for the hearing impaired, Diane Brackett—Sept., pp. 116–128
The impact of child language studies on mainstreaming decisions, Jennifer Kolzak—Sept., pp. 129–137
Linguistic complexity in the written language of hearing-impaired children, Ann Rutledge Powers & Sandra Wilgus—May, pp. 201–210
The role of adult assistance in children's acquisition of literate discourse strategies, Sarah Michaels—Sept., pp. 72–86
Semantic and pragmatic factors in the acquisition of syntax, Peter A. de Villiers—Sept., pp. 10–28
Social language: Toward fluency and flexibility, Mary McGinnis—Sept., pp. 101–115
Topic and the development of discourse structure, Sue Foster—Sept., pp. 44–54

Parents and Families

Early home intervention for hearing-impaired infants and their parents, Adele Proctor—Apr., pp. 150–158, 163–166
Parent diary: A technique for sampling the expressive language of hearing-impaired children, Maurine E. Kessler—Feb./Mar., pp. 105–115

Psychology

Hearing-impaired students' perception of liquid horizontality: An examination of the effect of gender, development, and training, Laurie J. Witters-Churchill, Ronald R. Kelly, & Lee A. Witters—May, pp. 211–225
Mainstreaming hearing-impaired children: Understanding is the answer (Programs in action), Rosalie Greco, Marcella Mathias, Barbara Peterka, Anne Sheldon, Lorraine Strazewski, & Arhontisa Theoharis—Dec., pp. 363–366

Schools/Special Programs

The auditory-verbal approach: Ellison, a case study (Programs in action), Nancy Long, Carol Fitzgerald, Kathy Sutton, & Joan C. Rollins—Jan., pp. 27–30, 35
The use of virbrotactile aids with preschool hearing-impaired children: Case studies (Programs in action), Patti Sheehy & Susan Aaberg Hansen—Jan., pp. 14–26

Speech

Small group versus individual speech therapy with hearing-impaired young adults, John A. Albertini, Jean McKernan Smith, & Dale E. Metz—Feb./Mar., pp. 83–89

Technology

On computers and the hearing impaired (Forum), Richard G. Stoker—Dec., p. 367

The Volta Review

Letters to the Editor: D. M. Goldberg—Apr., p.184; W. Northcott—Feb./Mar., p. 118; J. H. Ward—Apr., p. 184
Thank you to manuscript reviewers—May, p. 248